

Ethics Service support for patients and families

It can be hard to make healthcare decisions.

You might be asking:

- What treatment is best for me or my family member?
- Should a treatment be continued?
- Can a treatment be refused?
- What rights do patients and families have?
- Who should make healthcare decisions?
- How do I communicate with healthcare providers and family members about care needs?

The Ethics Service can help.

We offer confidential support to people making healthcare decisions.

We can:

- ✓ Meet with you to discuss options
- ✓ Provide decision-making tools and frameworks
- ✓ Help people who disagree have respectful discussions
- ✓ Support open, inclusive and fair decision-making

You can contact us directly or ask your care team to contact us.
